

NATIONWIDE MORTGAGE LICENSING SYSTEM

Starting January 2, 2008 the Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance ("Department") will join with several other states across the country in participating in the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System. Important information about the system and licensees' responsibilities under the system is outlined below.

Overview of the System

The Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System (NMLS) is a web-based system that will allow state licensed mortgage lenders and mortgage brokers to apply for, amend, update or renew a license online in Nebraska as well as in other participating states. The goal of the NMLS is to streamline and improve the licensing process for both regulators and the mortgage industry by using a national online system and a single set of uniform forms.

Each licensed company will have a single record in the NMLS, regardless of the number of licenses they hold or the number of states they operate in. Each licensed company will have access to their record in the system through a secure website, allowing them to conveniently view their license information, makes changes, apply for, renew or surrender licenses throughout the year.

All companies who currently hold a license with Department will need to complete a two-part process to get set-up on the NMLS.

Part 1: Requesting an Account

In order to gain access to the NMLS, each company currently licensed in Nebraska must submit a form requesting an account on the System.

If your company did not complete a Company Account Request Form during the pre-registration process this fall, the form will be available on the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System (NMLS) website starting January 2 2008. The Department's website will provide links to the NMLS website when it is launched in the near future.

If your company did complete a Company Account Request Form, the Primary Account Administrator and the Secondary Account Administrator identified for you company will receive two emails from the NMLS in late December with their User ID and their Password.

Note: Information about how a company's branches will be incorporated in the system will be communicated to the company.

If you have questions as to whether or not you need to complete a Company Account Request Form in January, you should consult corporate counsel.

Company Account Request Form - Instructions

In completing the Company Account Request Form you will be asked to do the following:

Input basic corporate information about your company. This includes the exact legal name, the state and date of incorporation, the IRS Employer Identification Number, and the main corporate address of your company.

The source you should use to obtain this information is your company's Articles of Incorporation, Articles/Certificate of Organization, Partnership Agreement, or other legal document. It is important that each company is set-up by their legal name and not by any trade name or "doing business as" name they may use. Using the legal name will ensure that only a single record is established for each distinct company in the System.

Sole Proprietors should use their full legal name as the company name.

The main address of your company should be the primary headquarters of the company, even if the headquarters is not located in Nebraska and even if this location does not conduct loan originations, retain records, etc.

If you have questions about where to obtain this information for your company or the correct information to use, you should consult your company's legal counsel before attempting to complete a Company Account Request Form.

Identify a Company Contact Person. The Company Contact Person is a person within your company that is authorized to communicate with state regulators. This person may be contacted by a state regulator or the NMLS with any questions about the Company Account Request Form you submit.

If you are unsure who in your company has the authority to communicate with state regulators on this matter, you should consult your company's legal counsel.

Identify a Primary Account Administrator. The Primary Account Administrator for your company is a person of your company's choosing that will have full access to your company's record on the NMLS and will be able to fill out and submit a complete company record to any state mortgage regulator. The Primary Account Administrator will also be able to set-up other system users within your company and grant them varying degrees of authority. The Primary Account Administrator may be, but is not required to be, an officer within your company. The Primary Account Administrator can be the same as the Company Contact Person.

Identify a Secondary Account Administrator. The Secondary Account Administrator will have all the authorities of the Primary Account Administrator. The Secondary Account Administrator is a back-up in case the Primary Account Administrator is no longer employed by your company. Identifying a Secondary Account Administrator is optional, but strongly encouraged.

Attestation. The person completing the Company Account Request Form must be someone from your company with the legal authority to act on behalf of your company. At the end of the form they will be asked to attest that the information submitted is correct and that they have the authority to submit this form for their company. If you are unsure who should fill out the Company Account Request Form for your company, consult your company's leadership and/or your company's legal counsel.

Part 2: Completing the Company Set-up Process

When the Primary Account Administrator and the Secondary Account Administrator, as identified by each company in their Company Account Request Form, receives their User ID and Password, they will have access to their company's account in the NMLS. The NMLS will not be available prior to January 2, 2008.

Each company's record in the NMLS will initially only contain the basic information provided in the Company Account Request Form. Once the Primary Account Administrator has received their User ID and Password, they will be required to complete the set-up process by doing the following:

1. Access their company's account in the NMLS
2. Fill out all remaining required information for their company
3. Attest to the information on their completed company form and submit it electronically, within the System, for approval by the Department.

In order to renew your license, you must submit the completed company form and branch forms on or before February 29, 2008.

Additional training and resources on using the NMLS will be available in the coming months for licensees. Consult this website in the future for further updates.

Should you have any questions or comments, please contact the Department at 402-471-2171.

In order to allow for a smooth transition to the NMLS, as of December 14, 2007, the Department will no longer accept new license applications in paper format. New applicants should gather their information and enter it onto the NMLS sometime after January 2, 2007. More information about the new applicant process will be posted as it becomes available.
